TOURNAMENT HOST

A growing, diverse institution offering programs in the liberal arts and the professions, Salisbury State College is committed to assisting the individual student in selecting a major most suited to his particular interests and career goals. Beyond his major course of study the student is encouraged to build collateral areas which support his major and broaden his spectrum of career opportunities.

That commitment is reflected in the College's General Education requirements: five courses in English and the Fine Arts; five courses in History and the Social Sciences; four courses in the Natural Sciences and Mathematics or Physical Geography; and three courses in Physical Education. It is anticipated that students experiencing many different disciplines will be better able to choose the most appropriate major.

Major programs of study leading to the Bachelor of Arts and the Bachelor of Science dregrees are offered in Art, Biology, Business Administration, Chemistry, Communication Arts, Economics, Elementary Education, English, French, Geography, History, Leisure Studies, Liberal Studies, Mathematics, Medical Technology, Nursing, Philosophy, Physical Education, Physical Sciences, Political Science, Psychology, Respiratory Therapy, Secondary Education, Social Science, Social Work, Sociology and Spanish.

Liberal Studies is a major in which students can determine their own program to meet their needs and personal interests. The flexibility in such a course of study allows a student to plan an interdisciplinary program involving several different departments or to focus on such concentrations as Music, Computer Science or other disciplines of interest to a student. In addition, the College has programs for teacher certification in Elementary Education as well as the various liberal arts disciplines including Music.

A career in one of several Engineering fields is available to Salisbury State College students through cooperative Dual Degree programs with Old Dominion University (Norfolk, Va.), the University of Maryland (College Park) and Widener (Pa.) University.
